CATHY MARIE BUCHANAN

Cathy's debut novel pulls us into the maelstrom of Niagara Falls at the time when rivermen drew dare-devils from the brink, the promise of hydroelectric power wooed the nation and only a few dared question our relationship with the mighty river. Powerful and eloquent, a love story, a tribute to the river, and a recognition that no choice is ever without consequences, this book will have you questioning everything you thought you knew about Niagara Falls.

TERRY FALLIS

Terry returns with his new novel The High Road, a brilliant follow-up to his Stephen Leacock Award-winner

The Best Laid Plans. This hilarious satire continues the story of Honest Angus McLintock, an amateur politician who dares to do the impossible: tell the truth. Tom Allen, CBC Radio host says: "Terry Fallis has found the cure for Canada's political malaise: a stubborn, old, irreverent Scotsman with nothing to lose."

TERRY O'REILLY

Host of the award-winning CBC Radio show "The Age of Persuasion," Terry and his co-author Mike Tennant combine years of industry experience and insider information to show how marketing shapes our culture in The Age of Persuasion. The Globe and Mail heralds this witty and entertaining book as: "...an easy-to-read and often subversive primer on marketing, advertising and branding."

KATE TAYLOR

A seductive new novel from the Globe and Mail's cultural affairs columnist and this year's Atkinson Fellow. Kate artfully combines mystery and history in this page-turning jaunt through 19th century Parisian society: the attempt to prove the innocence of convicted spy Alfred Dreyfus through an investigation of the social and military conspiracy that framed him. Who wouldn't fall for A Man in Uniform?
